

Our Cyclists

The Change a Life Cycle Tour has gained a reputation as one of South Africa's leading fundraising tours and attracts the highest calibre of executive cyclists as a result. A growing waiting list bears testimony to the quality of the tour and the strength of the Change a Life brand. It has offered participants an elite, exclusive networking opportunity, conducive to relationship building and deal-making.

The reputation and success of the Change a Life Cycle Tour is attested to by the fact that many of the business leaders who have participated are repeat participants, with many executives on our waiting list for an opportunity to participate in future. Change a Life attracts chairmen, chief executives and directors across the broad spectrum of financial services, telecommunications, hospitality, healthcare and nutrition, security, legal and management consulting industries.

Thank you for changing lives!

The Change a Life Cycle Tour is an annual cycle tour open to leading company executives both in South Africa and abroad. The tour was established in 2008 in memory of Mike Thomson, a Computershare executive who was murdered at his family home in 2007.

Change a Life has raised over R90 million for crime prevention and youth development projects which are creating more sustainable futures for young South Africans and their broader communities.

The Change a Life Cycle Tour has developed a track record as one of South Africa's leading fundraising tours.
